

7th Biennial Convention DMGS Old Boys Association of North America (DOBANA)

Honoring the past, treasuring the present, shaping the future...

1014WOIL

Friday August 22 to Sunday August 24, 2014

Sheraton Gateway Hotel Los Angeles, California

Eddie Ozumba DMGS Senior Prefect 1964 and President DOBA NEW ZEALAND

On behalf of myself, my family members- Gloria, Jennie and Hugh; and on behalf of DOBANZ, I wish you and your Organizing Team a resounding Convention in August 2014.

You could not have chosen a better theme - Honoring the Past, Treasuring the Present and shaping the Future as this captures what DMGS is all about for us and for the future generation. The contributions of DOBANA in shaping DMGS are second to none, and so I am confident that in your characteristic manner you will excel in this convention.

DMGS does not exist in vacuum and so I implore you all to spare a moment to pray for Nigeria in this critical period of searching for peaceful coexistence for all.

David Adefeso and The Pacific Group would like to congratulate

Foreword By Dr Beze Adogu

Fellow Alumni of the Old DMGS Tradition:

I am deeply honored to have been asked to contribute this Foreword as the frontispiece to our biennial Alumni gathering. This time, we meet at sunny Los Angeles in these United States of America, a place which the aboriginal inhabitants referred to as City of Angels. It is a euphemism that Old Boys of an Anglican Grammar School, itself named after Reverend T.J. Dennis, the translator of the Igbo Bible no less, will certainly appreciate, and perhaps, in the spirit of summer-time conviviality, forgive its inherent blasphemy.

My life's intellectual journey started pretty much at Grammar School. Fresh from the strictures of war-time Biafra, I arrived as a bemused 10 year-old into a world that was both fascinating and disconcerting in equal proportions. I left Grammar School exactly 40 years ago (My, how time doth fly!), armed with a freshly minted GCE (courtesy of the University of London) and a WASC in Division 1 (by the special Grace of WAEC). After so many years, which saw me, after a brief detour to Government College Umuahia, through University of Jos, University of Cambridge, and multiple Teaching Hospitals on either side of the Atlantic, I have come full circle to where it all began, at least, in a metaphorical sense. Sadly, I do not come in joyful celebration. Our Alma Mater is in dire straits. Grammar School is at a critical juncture where she needs all of her Alumni for her very survival and to fulfill her mission as a model school for promising young West African boys trained in the Anglican tradition. Recall that it was that same cloistered Anglican cocoon that gave us the likes of the incomparable Cardinal Henry Newman (perhaps, the most original religious thinker since Augustine of Hippo, whose incandescent career was almost sidelined by charges of obscurantism only after he switched to Catholicism), Dean Ralph Inge (whose delightful riposte that a church married to the spirit of this age is bound to be a widow in the next, remains a perennial favorite of mine), Dr. Rowan Williams (whose resignation as Archbishop of Canterbury to become Master of St Magdalene's at Cambridge presaged the equally momentous abdication of Pope Benedict XVI a full year later), C.S. Lewis, Henry More, Desmond Tutu, and much nearer home, our older alumni such as my old Principal, mentor and friend, Samuel Onochie Ogoazi, as well as Professors K.O. Dike, W.I.B. Onuigbo, James Ezeilo, Alexander Animalu, C.C. Ifemesia, and virtually all Vice-Chancellors of Igbo vintage pre-1990.

I would be forgiven if I have painted a picture of Grammar School as all panglossian. In truth, it had its trying moments, but Grammar School still allowed us all room to learn, grow, experiment, discover ourselves and slowly evolve into whom we were capable of becoming. It was our Proving Grounds. None of those happy developments happened by accident. It was the net result of sacrifices made by generations of Anglican priests and laity, some like TJ. Dennis were destined to die young, others fell under the assault of malaria and the burden of emotional isolation in the furthest reaches of tropical Africa, the majority lie buried in unmarked graves, barely remembered in today's Nigeria, where history is an ad hoc construct. As we celebrate our storied past this weekend, we also bow our heads in solemn recollection of their lives: Magistris meis et vivis et mortuis.

As we renew old ties of camaraderie and shared beginnings, as we conjure new dreams of a better and greater Grammar School, Nigeria, our country of birth, also faces a renewed crisis of confidence. We are beset by crumbling infrastructure, mediocrity in high places, an inept government, mind-boggling corruption, religious extremism, murder-for-hire, kidnapping-as-investment, resource control-by-extortion, a fractured judicial system, a Renter mind-set (which thrives on entitlement without investment), a pessimistic citizenry, but far and beyond all that, a culture that now elevates commerce above education. The result of that unfortunate development is clearly evident: a sharp decline in our social capital and a continuous erosion in public morality. We have slowly evolved into the worst fears of our Founding Fathers: a nation where Man has become a wolf to Man as well as a country where all-both rich and poor alike- are oppressed, the poor from their abject lack of the most basic resources, the rich from the sheer weight of shared guilt, and the middle-ground by the insistent clamor of importunity and diminished options.

The Talmud teaches us that he who saves a soul is considered to have saved an entire world. It is important, therefore, that we deploy that intellect and resourcefulness for which Grammar School was rightly reputed of old, in devising new ways to save at least 1 pupil, 1 school, and 1 tradition of excellence in Nigeria. We must renew ourselves as we rekindle that flame of knowledge that once served us so well, that spark of resilience that still strengthens us as immigrants in a new land, that ingenuity which has guided our faltering steps as pilgrims in the Lord's Vineyard. As we bask in the reflected glory of our storied past, we should look towards the future-hopefully without the insecurities of an impending mid-life crisis- and make penance for all the little tricks we played on our prefects, Mr Ogoazi and the All-Saints' Cathedral staff, by standing up to be counted. We may never become Governor of the Central Bank, Archbishop of the Niger, astronauts, brain surgeons, A.W. Ibe (the ubiquitous government contractor whom we referred to as "Asika With Ibe", in reference to his alleged close ties to the Administrator of East-Central State: remember him?), the Sultan of Sokoto, or any of the other foolish dreams pre-pubescent boys are wont to conjure when life is dreary and the food miserable, but we can each become our brothers' keepers in the truest tradition of our forebears.

In the days of Chief Austin Ezenwa, another notable Principal of Grammar School, he insisted there were only 4 secondary schools of especial note in the Eastern Region of Nigeria: DMGS and Christ the King College, both situated in Onitsha, representing the monastic, whilst Government College Umuahia and Hope Waddell Training Institute of Calabar represented the secular. As part of the hubris borne from years of unquestioned academic excellence, Christian moral guidance, and yes, the chronological snobbery of an earlier endowment, we were also encouraged to view only those schools as our true peers East of the Niger. Those were the august institutions we competed against, dueling over GCE scores, scheming over the young girls of Queen's School, Enugu, waging war over bragging rights in soccer, and- to purloin the memorable phrase of Lord Macaulay's Horatius-fighting against insurmountable odds, for the ashes of our Fathers and the temples of our Gods, which we all knew were ensconced in the few places available in those days at University College, Ibadan and its successor schools. The alumni of those same secondary schools are now busy at work trying to rebuild their own heritage. Even the younger elite schools-Government School Afikpo, Government Secondary School Owerri, QRC Onitsha, Queens School Enugu, CIC Enugu- are already in hot pursuit. We should not be found wanting: those, my fellow alumni, were the competition- and like us, were all equally pulverized by the long years of internecine conflict and an aftermath of criminal neglect. It was in competition against them, we sharpened our claws, improved our reflexes, toned our adolescent muscles, memorized long lines of Literature, re-read O-Level Chemistry by Holderness & Lambert, "purely for effect", wrote great poetry (well, those nice girls at Queen's may have more to do with that particular) and generally became better men for it. It is in competition-mano a mano-that Grammar School boys thrive. If anyone tells you any different, call him

There is a delightful Arabian proverb that describes a promise as a cloud, and its fulfillment as rain. Our gathering itself stands as testimony to the promise of Grammar School. As we pray for the wisdom and fortitude to guide our Old School on to even greater heights, our refrain should be: Let it rain, Boys, Let it rain. Let it rain.

congratulates

DMGS Old Boys Association of North America (DOBANA) on the 7th Biennial National Convention 2014 in Los Angeles, CA.

President's Message Dr BCI Okpkwasili

May I welcome all of us to another one of our great biennial conventions, the 7th so far, and this time in the great city of Los Angeles California. We are gathered for the important business of our great alma mater. But we must not fail to take advantage of the many opportunities offered by this great city, to get a short vacation, and see the many attractions which make this one of the most popular vacation choices available.

No matter what we do, please keep safety in mind, and move around in the company of people you know, or at least in groups. Most importantly, please have fun and do so safely.

As the convention theme states, this gathering has so much to be proud of when we remember the years we spent at DMGS, for many of us, the most memorable of our lives. We probably made our best friends at the school, still remember some of the best teachers we had, some of the times we poached dishes and cutlery from other houses, and the best sermons we heard in the Cathedral- I still remember Mr. Ekpunobi's "guard most carefully your Devine commission". That was more than 55 years ago.

We nevertheless must recognize the difficult times through which our beloved DMGS has passed. Times that have compromised its most important values and prospects. We must not forget that a school that was built for 300 students now has to accommodate 2000 plus, forcing many to be day students, and making enforcement of discipline a challenge. But, like many experiences in life, it is the challenges and setbacks that have the ability to propel us to greater heights. So we expect that the challenges and setbacks of the war and post war -experience will propel DMGS to greater heights.

As we gather to chart, or help chart the future of our great school, let us remember that nothing can keep this distinguished institution of ours from achieving the greatest heights in academic and character building excellence. Many of us Old Boys are not fully engaged in the association's efforts. Engagement does not have to be only financial. We could contribute our talents and resources in many ways. Some can contribute financially, others can contribute ideas, and yet others can contribute various forms of physical and mental skills. Let us encourage all to engage. There is much work to be done, and the more of us who join our hands in moving DMGS forward, the better.

Again, welcome to DOBANA 7th Biennial convention. We are honored by the presence of each and every one of you. May you have a great time here in Los Angeles, and may the Good Lord guide you all safely home when we are done.

LUX FIAT.

Welcome Message from West Coast Chapter of DOBANA

The West Coast Chapter of the DMGS Old Boys Association North America (DOBANA) welcomes you to the 2014 DOBANA Biennial Convention. We are glad that you are with us in Los Angeles, California for what promises to be a most memorable experience for all. You have come to a city that manages to surprise and enthrall in equal measures. If you have brought your family and loved ones, there will be plenty to keep them entertained while you take care of DMGS' present and future.

It was only in the middle of last year that a number of us living on the West Coast of the USA were encouraged to explore the feasibility of starting a DOBANA chapter. Within a month, a small number of us had gathered in person and through conference calls to take the first steps towards establishing a chapter. By the subsequent two months, the chapter had six members but we had high hopes and big dreams. The national DOBANA Board, recognizing the need for a growth catalyst for the budding chapter, suggested that we consider the idea of hosting the 2014 DOBANA Convention. Well, none of us, at the time, had any experience in planning or organizing a convention and were therefore unaware of the level of commitment, work, industry and know-how required to successfully host a convention. So, of course, we enthusiastically said "yes" to be the hosts.

After months of hard work and dedication, we are now on the verge of this great event coming to pass. We cannot say that we have become expert convention planners but we are certainly wiser than we were when we started this journey. We are not sure that we would answer in the same manner if approached again with the same proposition. Notwithstanding, the experience has been enriching, rewarding, and inspiring.

We have been able to bear witness to the love that some of our "Old Boys" have for our great Alma Mater. We have giants like Green Dim who would take telephone calls at any time of the day, call in to conference calls from far reaches of the world, give freely of his time and sacrifice financially for the good of this school of our childhood. Then there is Dr. Beze Adogu who has for years regaled us with his poetic virtuosity through his written words. He has also given quite generously to DMGS, whether solicited or not. On very short notice, we asked him to write the foreword for the convention and his response was typical Bezeic (our new word) "Anything you need, I will provide". The man exudes pure class. These two men and a few others like them represent what we aspire to be as Dengramites. We salute you all.

We extend a heartfelt thanks to the DOBANA Board, especially the President, Dr. B.C. Okpokwasili, for having the foresight and the belief that we could pull this thing off. Your wisdom in having the West Coast chapter host this event has already been justified by the increased interest in the chapter. The chapter roster has now grown to include twenty names from three states. Though not all are currently due-paying and active members, we have been offered a solid foundation upon which to build a great chapter.

We offer thanks to the following members who have contributed towards this event's success: Emeka Osakwe, Osita Okonkwo, Oduah VC Mozie, Chief Nnamdi Ekenna and Dr. Ndukwe Odeluga

We reserve our very special thanks to these men below, without whom this event could not have been put together.

Ndubuisi Oquejiofor, DOBANA West Coast Coordinator, Nwanneka Anene, Uche Nwankwo.

It has been our pleasure to be a part of this organization and have indeed been honored to be asked to serve it. Again, we welcome you and wish you the best of times here in Los Angeles.

Special thanks to Amaka Ada Akudinobi, Sparkling Ice Event Planners +1213-923-2846

Uche Udemezue, on behalf of the DOBANA West Coast Chapter.

Message to DOBANA Convention 2014 From Mr. Eugene Ijezie, MA, PGDE, BA - Principal, DMGS, Onitsha.

Dear Dengramites,

By the grace of God, and the magnanimity of the DMGS family, I am the newest "Old Boy" and the Principal of DMGS. It is with the humility, gratitude and a profound acknowledgement of its historical significance that I have accepted the responsibilities.

The roll call of my predecessors, which includes Bishop Patterson, Rev E.D.C. Clark, Mr. S. O. Ogazi, Sir. Joel Ezeukwu, Mr. K. B. C. Nwokeabia and Sir. Robert Aralu, and their achievements is challenging and induces a sense of great responsibility. You are their living legacy and a testimony of their peerless achievements.

My vision is that with confidence and enthusiasm, D.M.G.S will remain committed to showing the light. As the pioneer great institution east of the Niger, we will remain bound to painting beautiful pictures of a great future on the hearts of every student.

In many ways, it is a challenge that I have spent my life preparing for. At various times, I have held various positions and since 2006 been a Principal:

Girls' Secondary School Onitsha (Dean Of Studies)

Boy's High School Osumenyi (Dean Of Studies)

Boy's Secondary School Oraifite (Vice Principal)

Community Secondary School Ozubulu (Vice Principal)

Boys' Secondary School Oraifite (Principal)

Community Secondary School Ihembosi (Principal)

Dennis Memorial Grammar School Onitsha (Principal)

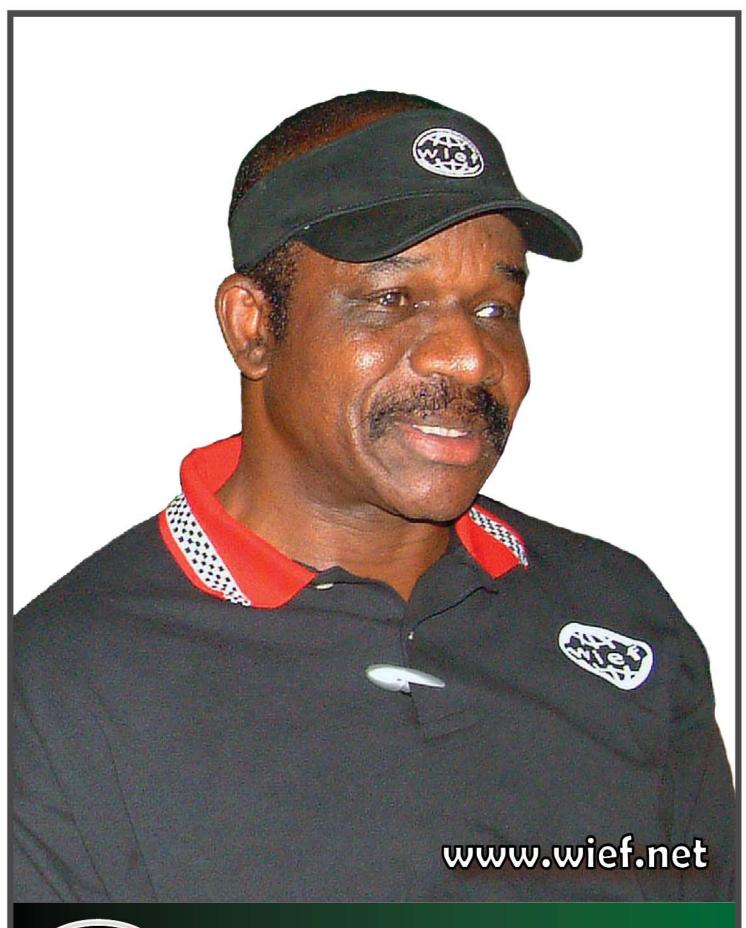

Dear Dengramites, I commit myself to the challenge of this unique position as Principal of The Grammar School. It is my mission to cultivate in our young Dengramites, the seeds of greatness and to uproot all the negative attitudes that would hinder them from achieving their full potentials. I am willing and ready to embrace the challenges and opportunities. In so doing, and through your support during my tenure, we may make a little contribution to the eternal goals of the school.

Best wishes for a successful convention.

A brief message to he Iroku Family and Friends at the Funeral Services in NewYork, June 27, 2014.

I have already written a final letter to my friend, Onowu Aham L'Achi. – So I am not here to repeat what I said in the letter, except to elucidate the character of this great man, and to console, if that is the phrase, his family and many of us his friends.

On behalf of myself, my family, the Dennis Memorial Grammar School Old Boys Association of North America and the Tri-State Branch of that great Association, both of which I have the privilege of serving as the president, I wish to extend the Deepest of Condolences to the Iroku family - his wife - Dr. Rachel Onyebeke Iroku, his children - Dr. Tochi Iroku - Malize; Mr. Osita Iroku, Ms. Obi Iroku and Mr. Ugonna Iroku. May the most merciful Lord continue to comfort you.

It is true that when one departs on ones journey home, those who are left here on earth are sad, mournful and confused, especially if the feeling lingers that we would have preferred to have the individual stay here with us.

But when one has done what one came to this world to do, we should be celebrating ones company with us for the many years he/she might have been here. We should be singing praises to God Almighty for giving us the opportunity to know him - Humphrey Iroku. We should rejoice that he was with us, that he loved us, that we loved him, and above all that with him as one of the Angels above, our burden here on earth is made lighter.

Humphrey got the best education money can buy, as they say. He gave his children the best education money can buy. His wife was not content in being a nurse. She went on to get a PHD in nursing Education. Humphrey served his state of Enugu in various high level capacities. He was a surgeon here in New Jersey and New York for many years. What else is left for him to do – Good job my friend. It is not easy, as our people would say "Odiro Ofele".

Since Humphrey died, three testimonies of his life have come to my attention. They all attest to his kindness and willingness to help others.

Finally my brothers and sisters, on July 6 a JS1 student at DMGS will be awarded a scholarship for the rest of his years at DMGS. After him, some other student will inherit the scholarship. This scholarship will be named in memory of Dr. Humphrey Iroku. When the Old Boys of DMGS in North America, decided to award 10 full scholarships to DMGS students, from this year going forward, one of the first sponsors was Dr. Humphrey Iroku. Unfortunately Humphrey will not live to see this effort of his come to fruition. So DOBANA decided to name one of the scholarships after him. The young man is in the same house that Humphrey, in 1957, was the house prefect. This young man will meet with Humphrey's family when Humphrey returns to Nigeria in a couple of weeks. This is a testimony to the big heart and generosity of this humble man.

The Good Lord said to Humphrey - well done my son, come home and get a deserved rest, free of sickness, free of earthly worries, free of pains and cries. The Lord said - My son Humphrey - you have done all I sent you to do. And we on earth say - Amen

Introducing his book "Growing Tall Amidst Obstacles" to his fellow Dengramites.

DMGS Profile: Class of 1977; Paraded himself as a Class Two Student while an Onyjo (short-lived); Lacked Badge (long-lived); Missed Grade 1 due largely to EXPO '77 cancelled papers (short-long-lived); Owes most of his peer values to DMGS ('ever'lasting gratification).

In this Book, Chief Nnamdi A. Ekenna dedicated a portion to some of his experiences as a boarding student at DMGS of which he recalls: "Boarding school is fun only in retrospect. It is one of those mnemonics of life that grows, in importance, as you grow older.

The older we got, the more sense boarding school made, the more relevant its lessons became, and the more useful the application of those lessons learned benefited one's life. Respect was enjoined, not only towards the Masters and Mistresses, not to mention the Principal - who was practically a god {and if you happened to be in his presence more than twice or so in a school year - which is at the beginning and dismissal of General Assemblies - then there might be a problem with you, as your case must have gone above and beyond the usual schoolboy antics}, but also, to one's seniors, and peers. Regardless of the attendant rigors and strictness we had to endure and live through in boarding school, the life lessons came in handy later in life. Most of these lessons and life skills - timeliness, recognition, and respect for authority {even peer authority - such as the prefects and monitors) - were actually learnt, not necessarily from actual school course work, but most often from one's peers, classmates, and seniors."

He encourages you to pick up a copy and read, you may find yourself or someone you know mentioned in the Book – he mentioned some of his peers and seniors by name - and like most of you immortalize the GIFTS garnered from being educated in one of the greatest secondary schools of all time.

Introducing his book "We must hear all the stories" to his fellow Dengramites.

This is the Second Publication by Chief Nnamdi A. Ekenna.

From an innocent encounter in an airplane to discourses of the enrichment of the only philosophy his own father handed down to him, through issues of concern for dereliction of education to building a wholesome and homogeneous community, he highlights issues through his own journey through life and the numerous recordation of those he had made and shared in a span of close to two decades, blending fun and earnest graveness without being preachy or sanctimonious. Drawing from the Desiderata and his favorite prayer, "Good Morning, God," he uses an engaging discourse form to deliver the message that our stories, individually and collectively, written or unwritten, is the culminant of the world's story. In this book, he shows that inspiration is not farfetched and that from effecting live-ability in our immediate surroundings, we can shape our story to effect "points of contact and communication" that will eventually give "the world story, the great story ... a chance to develop."

TRIBUTE TO DR. BEN NWOSU BY MRS. CHINYE WADIBIA (DAUGHTER)

Some call him an inventor, scientist, humanitarian, educator, or patriarch of his family. All these ring true of late Dr. Benjamin Chukwukadibia Nwosu, but one name he was ardently proud of was "Dengramite". His alma mater, Dennis Memorial Grammar School, Onitsha, Anambra State, held a special place in my father's heart so much that he had the honor of hosting his beloved "Old Boys" as president for so many years. My dad did not joke with his favorite association and we all knew it. DMGS was a family legacy. All three sons of Archdeacon B.C Nwosu, DD, who was one of the pioneer indigenous teachers at DMGS, attended the same school.

In his lifetime my father played an integral role in the development and refurbishment of the old school facilities, and encouraged the younger "old boys" to get actively involved in the association. I remember that the young guys loved coming to our house because of collegial and informal atmosphere he preferred.

After finishing secondary school at DMGS, my father went to the University College, Ibadan in 1954. Later he got married and returned to his alma mater, DMGS to teach science. From there he left for University of London for a graduate level Education Diploma. When he came back to Nigeria, he was appointed principal of Ngwa High School, Aba. After a couple years there, he was able to go to the United States with his young family to pursue his doctorate in Nuclear Physics at Ohio State University as a Rockefeller Fellow. In those days, people like my father were anxious to come home and build the newly independent nation, so the University of Nigeria, Nsukka, was his first choice.

With a strong background in research and technology, his involvement in the civil war, and his reputation as the co-inventor of "ogbunigwe", my father was later invited by the military government to scout for Nigerian scientific talent around the world with the objective of establishing a special technology program for the nation. This was later aborted due to the demise of Murtala Mohammed, the brains behind the plan.

My father later joined the Federal Ministry of Education, and retired as Director in 1986. His passion for science and technology lived on with the establishment of his own company designed to consult in the building of science equipment factories around the nation.

Dr. Nwosu was a man of science, but he was also a man of strong Christian faith. He is survived by his wife Lady Rose Nwosu, also a retired educator and administrator, grown children, grandchildren and a great grand child.

Thanks,

Chinye Wadibia (Daughter)

> We congratulate the DMGS OBANA On its 7th Biennial Convention Los Angeles, CA, August 22-23, 2014

As it honors the past, treasures the present, and tries to shape the future of the great school, DMGS.

On behalf of the family, Dr Ikechukwu Ofomata Class of 1977, Dallas, Texas.

My family and I wish to congratulate the President and Executive Officers of DOBANA on the 2014 Biennial Convention of Dengramites in North America.
Profound praise and admiration must be reserved for the local organizing team resident in California.
Mr Ndubisi Oguejiofor and Co have left no stone unturned in orchestrating a convention only befitting of DMGS Old Boys.

As we assemble in Los Angeles,
May God be in total control of our deliberations pertaining to the future state of our Alma mater.
Our hope is that all conventioneers are challenged and inspired in the very essence of our school anthem.
We pray for traveling mercies for all attendees at the conclusion of this epoch event.

A WEEK IN HOWELLS HOUSE (D.M.G.S. 1953-1954)

It causes me extreme pain and distress whenever I compare the present state of D.M.G.S with what I saw when I was in Howells house in 1953-1954. Howells house made a greater impression on me than Tugwell house possibly because of the people I met there. It is not easy to forget the late Mr. Samuel Erike my first dormitory leader, D.M.G.S goal keeper and Champion in the 440 and 880 yards races, the late Professor of history Dr. Fred Omu who was a Professor at the University of Lagos. He was my next dormitory leader. One cannot easily forget the indefatigable Dr. Ekanem-Ita Ekanem Umoh easily, the best all rounder during my stay in the D.M.G.S.

In 1953 Reverend P.J. Ross was the Principal and Mr. Daniel Erinne was the Vice-Principal. He was Nicknamed 'Birm' because he has a BSc in Chemistry from the University of Birmingham in England. In 1954, Rev. P.J. Ross became the Principal of St. Marks College, Nibo-Nise, a Teacher Training College. Mr. S. J. Cookey, from Okirika Grammar School became the first black Principal of D.M.G.S. Mr. D. C. Erinne became the Principal of another Teacher Training College at Irete, near Owerri. Mr. Erinne lost his life a few years later in a tragic car accident on his way to Lagos from where he would have flown to London to become the Agent-General for Eastern Nigeria in the United Kingdom.

There was no idle time in Howells house. We woke up at 5:30am for private devotion which lasted up till 6am. I do not think that most of us did

We should all learn this song so that this tradition will not be lost. Mr. Solomon Obi was very popular with us. We bought iced oranges and banana from his store which was at the round-about. He operated a kerosene refrigerator. He must have made a fortune from us. He trained his son at the C.K.C.. His son became Governor of Anambra State twice!.

Night Prep. started from 7pm and lasted till 9pm for Classes 1 to 4 students and till 10pm for classes 5 and Higher School students. 9pm was lights out for the more junior students. The class 4 students told the more junior ones that they, the class 4 students were the only 'Cocks that crew'. They were the only students that spoke after lights out. 10pm was lights out for every body. If any student was found 'cockroaching' i.e reading after 10pm, that could lead to a week or two weeks suspension from school. After the lights out, the Tutors will be making their own rounds to make sure that orders were kept. On Saturday mornings, there was Inspection of the dormitories. The dormitories, the lawns, the bathrooms, the toilets, the bedding, the lockers etc were kept spotlessly clean. Aggrey house almost always won the competition for cleanliness. On Saturdays, we went to Onitsha town in school uniform for hobbies such as black-smithing, Auto-mechanic, Tailoring, Shoe-making etc. Unfortunately, most of us never took these hobbies seriously.

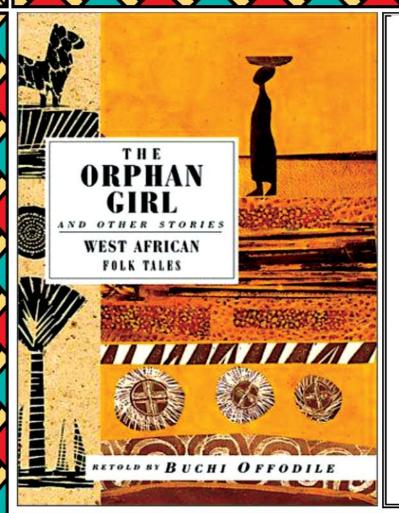

In Howells, we had an anthem and also a 'Motto'. The Motto was 'Through difficulties to the Stars'. We all strove to make Howells house the best in D.M.G.S. We had social evenings where each house entertained the entire school with songs and concerts. Gradually, these social evenings changed to classical plays where scenes in Julius Caesar and Coriolanus etc were acted.

On Sunday mornings by a.m., the entire school marched to the Lady's Chapel of the Anglican Cathedral for Church services. The Anglican Cathedral was a stone throw from D.M.G.S. These services were compulsory. Most of us went to these services as a routine. Our heart was not in it. We went to church to fulfill all righteousness, we were all un-saved. The Holy Spirit was not in any of us. We knew almost nothing about the Lord Jesus. We carried out the same routine for the evening services. Some us fell asleep during the sermon.

Since 1968 D.M.G.S. has been in ruins. D.M.G.S. was a battle ground from the middle of 1968 to the end of the war in January 1970. Only the old school building and a few other buildings were left but without a roof. Only a miracle will re-build D.M.G.S. I strongly believe that the Lord Jesus Christ will completely rebuild, re-equip, refashion D.M.G.S. It is His school. He is the only one that can give us this miracle.

Message Of Gratitude To: Dennis Memorial Grammar School (DMGS) Old Boys Association

Late Dr. Humphrey Umekwe Iroku's family, thanks members of DOBANA (DMGS Old Boys of North America) for the great honor bestowed on Dr. H. Iroku at his Funeral Service and Wake Keeping in New York. Your presence under the leadership of your National President, B. Okpokwasili, PhD was remarkable. You sang your Alma Mater song; paid tributes to Humphrey and crowned him with the announcement of the scholarship to a DMGS student at Onitsha, in Nigeria after funeral service in memory of Dr. Humphrey A. I. Umekwe Iroku. THANK YOU!! THANK YOU!!

We also thank members of DMGS old boys in Nigeria, who were present at the Funeral Service and Burial Ceremony at Achi. Your presence, songs, presentation and goodwill speeches were greatly appreciated.

THANK YOU!! THANK YOU!! THANK YOU!!

The famous 57 SET, we acknowledge your effort in honoring your classmate. Thank you! To others who could not be present, your tributes, thoughtfulness and kindness through phone calls, visits, prayers and other ways were appreciated. LUX FIAT!!

Honoring the DMGS Blazer

Re-inventing the DMGS look – a personal recommendation

Introduction

The DMGS Blazer, an off-red jacket with the DMGS badge prominently displayed on the left breast pocket, is a symbol of honor to any Dengramite wearing it. It represents an instant acknowledgement that the wearer passed through the walls of DMGS, and is endowed with the highest academic, moral, and disciplinary standards for which DMGS is known everywhere. The Blazer is DMGS's way of announcing to the world that "the wearer is my beloved son in whom I am well pleased". For the avoidance of doubt, some of the distinguished Dengramites who have worn the Blazer are Most Reverend B. C. Nwankiti, Right Reverend G. N. Otubelu, Most Reverend Dr. J. A. Onyemelukwe, and Most Reverend M.S.C. Anikwenwa. While many other distinguished Dengramites have worn the Blazer, and are equally deserving of the honor, I have clearly chosen only members of the clergy for my example for a reason.

Who should wear the DMGS Blazer? There are three categories of people who should be allowed to wear the Blazer.

SS-3 students at DMGS with clear evidence that they intend to graduate from DMGS within one year and sit for their WAEC exams while at DMGS.

Old Boys who graduated from DMGS. This includes any former student who was at DMGS in 1967 (before the civil war), but did not return to DMGS after the civil war due to circumstances at the time.

Any other Administrator or Honorary
Dengramite who has gone through the process of Dengramite Adoption – a process where the Principal or the DMGS Management Board recommends and DOBA approves such adoption.

Color of the Blazer and Trouser, tie, and pocket square.

The colors of the DMGS Blazer, tie, and pocket square are already established, and must be maintained at all times with little or no variation. To assure consistency, DOBA should select an Official DMGS Tailor. Refer to DMGS Official Tailor section below.

Recommended Trousers – Uniformity in the color of trousers worn with The Blazer lends the highest prestige to the wearer of the Blazer. For example, readers are asked to refer to the DOBA 2014 Convention Booklet for examples of how to, and how not to, wear the Blazer, especially in group photographs. Page 36 (Abuja Branch Photo) and page 38 (Enugu Branch photo) are excellent examples of how the DMGS Blazer should be worn in group photographs in order to achieve the highest prestige. Notice in such brochure how other groups with differing trouser colors, tie, and shirts look less orderly, uncoordinated, and unprofessional.

DMGS students wear two colors (khaki and white) for shorts and trousers. Usually, khaki color is worn during school days while white color is worn on Sundays, usually for Sunday services. Black was not part of the color worn by students. DMGS Old Boys appear to have chosen black trousers to be worn with the Blazer. This is perhaps to distinguish Old Boys from current students, and perhaps because black signifies stability.

Against this backdrop, below are my recommendations for proper Blazer color co-ordination:

Whenever students wear the Blazer, they must always wear it with white trousers or shorts. Students must not wear black or khaki colored pants or trousers with the Blazer.

Old Boys must wear the Blazer with trousers in one of two colors depending on the event. White trousers must be worn for regular functions except for funerals. Black trousers must be worn for funerals or for group pictures. What happens if Old Boys decide to take a group photograph in a regular function where Old Boys are wearing white trousers? In this event, a group photograph can be taken except that it shall not be full length photograph. The photograph should be from the waist up without showing the trousers. In order words, Dengramites wearing the Blazer should always take full length photos if they are wearing black trousers or half photo if they are wearing white trousers. All Adopted or Honorary Dengramites must wear only white trousers with the Blazer. No black or khaki color. Honorees should be informed of the dress code during the adoption ceremony.

The DMGS Blazer, an off-red jacket with the DMGS badge prominently displayed on the left breast pocket, is a symbol of honor to any Dengramite wearing it.

The Pocket Squares - The Blazer must be worn without pocket squares. The pocket squares sometimes cover the DMGS badge on the breast pocket. Besides, many people do not know how to wear it. This leads to lack of uniformity among wearers of the Blazer. Shirt Recommendation: – The blazer must be worn with long sleeve white shirts at all times, no exception. Off color white is not acceptable. Tie Recommendation – Whenever the DMGS Blazer is worn, a matching DMGS tie must also be worn, without exception. If one cannot tolerate the heat or the tie, it is best to come to the occasion without a DMGS Blazer. Alternatively, if the tie is taken off for whatever reason, the Blazer must also be taken off and stowed away in one's car; Honor thy Blazer.

Shoe Recommendation: – When feasible, wear brown shoes with white trousers, and black shoes with black trousers. Remember, we are striving for uniformity and prestige. Hat Recommendation: – None allowed, not even the red cap, except for the clergy. If you have no hair, remember this saying: "God made only a few perfect heads, the rest he covered with hair";

Official DMGS Tailor -The DMGS Administration and DOBA should select an Official DMGS Tailor and renew his contract each year based on his performance during the prior year. Recently, DOBANA ordered blazers from Nigeria for an official event in the United States. Unfortunately, despite actual measurements which were provided to the tailor in Nigeria, he proceeded to make Blazers that were fitting only for 18-year old students in SS

3. Adoption of an Official DMGS Tailor will ensure the following:

Material quality and consistency.
Proper construction of the Blazer and accuracy of size and fitting.

Standard price and lower cost to Dengramites. Speed of delivery when necessary.

Blazer Initiation Ceremony:-DOBA and DMGS should begin to perform a Blazer initiation ceremony which should be performed twice each year. The first shall be at the beginning of each school year to educate SS-3 students about the proper wearing of a DMGS Blazer. The second shall be conducted at the end of the year before graduation or the WAEC Exam. During this last period, DOBA shall instruct graduating SS-3 students (imminent Old Boys) on the proper color combination of the Blazer as an Old Boy. The opportunity will be used to educate students on the responsibilities of Old Boys. In addition, exit interview will be conducted, and students will be given career counseling and be officially registered as Old Boys before they graduate. Registration shall include name, forwarding address, e-mail, and telephone number.

Summary -The DMGS Blazer is a status symbol and an affirmation of one's public stature as a Dengramite. The words that come to mind at the sight of a well-worn DMGS Blazer are smart, intelligent, orderly, trustworthy, morally and mentally stable, disciplined and reliable. To protect these enviable qualities for Dengramites, the DMGS Blazer needs renewed attention. Those who wear it must wear it with honor and respect. The DMGS Blazer deserves a special place in your wardrobe.
